Curling Etiquette

Good Sportsmanship Always have fun. Compliment a good shot especially by the opponent. Avoid criticism. Keep it friendly. Be aware of others around you and watch language and behaviour.	Can't Make a League Game? Ensure you make arrangements for a spare and notify your skip. Your team and opposition depend on your attendance. Each league is in charge of their spares list and rules involving spares.
Hands and Knees Off the Ice Please It takes very little time for warm body parts to cause marks in the surface of the ice. These marks can adversely affect the travel of the curling stone.	Ice Attire Please make sure your equipment is clean and maintained, especially shoes, so the ice stays free of debris. Clean brush heads at the ends behind play rather than over the ice.
Game Time Always know your game time and try to show up early. Teams should be ready to go on the ice 5 minutes before their game. Announcements are usually made during this time.	Slow Play Try to stay within scheduled game time. Some curlers do not appreciate slow play and some may have other commitments after a game. Others may be waiting for you to finish.

Scoreboard The vice skips usually mark the scoreboard. Scores should be marked on the scoreboard right after the end has been decided. If both teams agree, play may continue after a game is conceded but no further score shall be marked.	The End of an End Only one person from each team should enter the house after an end until the score is decided. The vice skip (third) is typically the person in control of the house at the completion of an end.
Positioning Move to the side of the ice as soon as your teams shot is over. Do not linger. Keep clear of the other team during their shot and make no distractions.
